

Redbridge Primary School

Parent Forum Terms of Reference and Aims

At Redbridge Primary School, we are committed to working closely with parents and carers. We value the partnership which exists between school, parents and the community and the part it plays in school improvement.

Research has shown that children have a better school experience, and achieve more when their parents are involved in their education. Concerns can be resolved more quickly when parents have a good relationship with the school.

The Governing body at Redbridge Primary School have a very specific strategic role to play in the running of the school and have both legal and statutory responsibilities.

Generally, the day to day leadership and management of the school is the responsibility of the Head Teacher and other senior leaders employed by the school.

We feel that it is important that parents have a forum where they can express their views, know that they can make a difference, and learn more about how the school operates. The Parents Forum will be a place for parents to learn more about the school and a place for the school to learn more about different ways parents can contribute to their child's learning journey.

Membership of the Parent Forum

Each year, the school seeks at least one representative per year group across the school, ideally one per class. If the school receives more than 1 nomination for a class, names of candidates will be placed into a lottery and picked at random.

What is a Parent Forum?

A Parent Forum is a body of parents which represents parents and provides a forum for them to put forward their views to the Head Teacher of their children's school. Parent Forums are a more accessible way to involve more parents in decisions about the school. A Parent Forum is less formal and requires a lesser commitment than being a member of the governing body. It also enables more parents to make a real contribution to their child's school.

The Governing body remains the decision-making body and provides the strategic leadership of the school. Parent Forums have a consultative and advisory role. They are not a fund-raising body. They are a means of expanding the communications between parents and the school, strengthening the voice of parents and enabling more parents to express their opinions and influence decisions.

The Ofsted self-assessment and inspection arrangements require schools to assess and demonstrate how well they listen to, and act on, parents' views. Parent Forums are seen as an excellent way to do this.
